

Blue Lotus Counseling & Consulting Services is working with The Center for Clinical Training and offering support to the Metro Nashville Police Department Professional Wellness Section in response to the tragic events occurring at the Covenant School in Nashville. Early intervention during critical incidents can be impactful in addressing the effects of trauma for individuals and our community.

To provide support and crisis counseling services for the Covenant School community, Metro Nashville first responders and members of the Nashville and surrounding areas, we have asked licensed mental health professionals to be available for crisis counseling and support. Below you will find a list of those who are helping with these efforts, along with their contact information.
